Richmond BBYO Seeks New Members and Past Alumni

Richmond BBYO (formerly known as the B'nai Brith Youth Organization) invites all Jewish high school teens to its membership event, known as Intakes, at the Weinstein JCC on Sunday, August 30th. Intakes typically attract rising freshmen; however, rising sophomores, juniors, and seniors are encouraged to attend as well to learn about BBYO.

The event will take place in the Israel November Auditorium from 1:00 to 4:00 p.m. Many of Richmond BBYO's teen leaders will be present to talk about BBYO and answer any questions that the prospective members may have. Jordan Pinsky, Richmond BBYO's City Director, will also be present to answer any questions that parents may have about the organization.

In addition to looking for new members, Richmond BBYO wants to keep in touch with its alumni to organize Friends & Alumni Network (FAN) events. Please visit <http://fan.bbyo.org/about/> or contact Jordan Pinsky for more information.

Please contact Jordan Pinsky at jpinsky@weinsteinjcc.org, or 545-8609, for more information on Intakes, BBYO membership, or the Richmond FAN.

For over 25 years the Weinstein JCC has celebrated Jewish books and authors at its annual Book Fair. Our goal is to educate the community about Jewish literature and to stimulate discussion and thought regarding current Jewish issues, history, philosophy, literature and poetry. Book Fair week will take place Sunday November 15th through the 22nd.

This year the Book Fair committee is looking to expose and promote local Jewish authors in our community. If you have been published and would like to participate in this special event during Book Fair, please contact Orly Lewis 545-8610 or olewis@weinstienjcc.org.

Come meet the coach and learn what is involved in being a Dolphin. Ages 6 to 18 are welcome to attend either of our open house dates; Sunday, August 30 at 4:00 p.m. or Thursday, September 3 at 6:00 p.m. An optional swim evaluation to determine practice groups will follow the information meetings.
